Best Law Firms Ranking

Washington, DC— Marzulla Law, LLC has long been considered a prominent firm in Washington, DC, especially when it comes to litigating environmental and takings cases in the federal courts. Its work in Environmental Law has now been recognized in the 2010 “Best Law Firms” rankings, published earlier this month by U.S. News and World Report, in partnership with Best Lawyers.

Marzulla Law has earned a “Tier One” place in the rankings—the highest tier among all Washington, DC law firms. This is the first year of the rankings, where 8,782 law firms in 81 practice areas were ranked by location and practice area. Of the 41 law firms ranked in Washington for their Environmental Law practice, Marzulla Law was one of 13 to receive “Tier One” ranking.

Marzulla Law LLC can be found by browsing the results of searching “District of Columbia” location and the practice area, “Environmental Law.”

The results are posted on Best Lawyers’ website.

Roger J. Marzulla and Nancie G. Marzulla also have been recognized individually by Best Lawyers. Since its inception in 1983, Best Lawyers has become universally regarded as the definitive guide to legal excellence. Corporate Counsel magazine has called Best Lawyers “the most respected referral list of attorneys in practice.”
